Product Description

Protection for your iPhone® never looked so good. With the Kensington Aluminum Finish Case you can wrap the back of your iPhone® in a form-fitting layer of aluminum that adds the much needed protection from bumps, bruises and scratches.

And like all Kensington products, no matter how stylish, we never lose sight of the functionality. That means the Kensington Aluminum Finish Case preserves easy access to all controls, touchscreen, ports and of course, the camera. The case also makes it easier to hold onto your iPhone because of the easy-to-grip aluminum finish. And if you still manage to drop it, you'll have peace of mind knowing that the back and sides of your iPhone are protected by a tough aluminum shell. Plus the case is incredibly light and resists smudges to give your iPhone a dash of style and class. And it not only looks great but feels great in your hand and can also slip very easily into and out of your pocket or bag. Now you don't have to sacrifice style to have the protection you need.
